

DANEMO Symposium

MOLECULAR ECOSYSTEMS

3-4 NOVEMBER 2022

Join this symposium to get introduced to EMBL's new programme "Molecules to Ecosystems" with special focus on some of the new research themes: Planetary Biology, Human Ecosystems, and Microbial Ecosystems.

The symposium features presentations by outstanding researchers from both EMBL and Denmark, representing the new research themes. Further more, learn about the scientific facilities and funding opportunities offered to life scientists and students in Denmark by both EMBL and EMBO, and hear short talks by young researchers pursuing their research career at EMBL.

The DANEMO symposium aims to encourage and strengthen collaborations between Danish researchers and EMBL research groups, and use of the many opportunities for research and career development that EMBL and EMBO has to offer. Also the DANEMO Fellowship for Collaborative Work to support scientific interactions with EMBL researchers and use of facilities will be highlighted.
