Greylag Goose	Derogation	Methodology	27042022

The Greylag Goose is subject to derogation killing in Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark, Germany, Belgium and The Netherlands, but not in France and Spain.

EU Member States are obliged to report all derogations to the European Commission in annual derogation reports (according to Article 9 in the Birds Directive; EU 2020), however, for a number of Member States the data are only available after several years. Furthermore, in some countries this reporting involved several administrative levels and with some uncertainty to the true number of killed birds.
