variables
trends
trophic
limnic terrestrial changes performance
biota
variance phenological
species
mean
levels
change
temperature increasing phenology
snow
study within positive regression
arctic abiotic across zooplankton
significant climate
distribution
system
year
higher observed likely temporal cover
valley
phytoplankton
shifts
decreasing
low
negative showed exhibited biotic number normalised
herbivores
depth
others
high direction
df linear variation
ecosystems Zackenberg
patterns
data difference
analysed Precipitation
arthropods
analysis primarily analyses unaltered
general
ice arthropod
response
total
Fig
June
DOY
melt average
day
groups
trend
studies
among tree
Polar
sampled changing increased annual
P.D.D
species/taxa
related
plant
results
earlier
peak therefore also contrast
noted overall using ecosystem
summer abundance variable
expected
two may precipitation
Table
increase mismatch
measurements
water
flowers
pattern
sensitivity
moisture
together
Biol
Schmidt
sdnorm Additionally
responses
birds
taxa Temporal
level
period
high-arctic exhibit
types
years
lower generally
included different
However