species
trait hypervolume functional
diversity
hypervolumes latitudinal
theory geographic gamma tropical pool overlap
space
data
may alpha richness
traits theories different beta latitude
ecological assemblages assemblage niche temperate within gradient competition
available
scales
distance predictions filtering SLA
analysis
processes
relationship
tree
reported
predicts expectation multiple trait
mass distribution absolute indicating coverage characterize ecological
plots
seed
bands
zone
volume
window pools variation new Download
dimensions relative increase among packing often three consistent range environmental light blue regional similar Next
show Functional
World
Methods
Diversity
comparisons focus higher also mean height differences Section however red less smaller values competitive evolutionary le unique
test
scale
well SD
interactions
environments
overall sampling
band resampling
major exclusion
local full across
per
beta greater density
used larger PPT
latitudes
New
using results
tests contrast Materials
maximum Previous
rate
found random sample
analysis
number important testing assigned indicating
coverage
characterize
decay
example including
processes
relationship
ecological
latitude
beta
tree
reported
predicts
one
alpha
richness
traits
sampling
band
resampling
major
exclusion
across
data
may
space
unique
test
scale
SD
interactions
environments
overall
different
theories
multiple
expectation
predictions
filtering SLA
distance
analysis
sample
number
testing
important
assemblages
gradient
scales Previous
rate
found
random
contrast Materials
maximum
tests
results
using
niche
New
within
temperate
competition
available
latitudes
larger
PPT
used
density
greater
full
local
per
beta
across
exclusion
resampling
major
unique
test
scale
well
SD
interactions
environments
overall
sampling
band
data
may
space